Base Building Assignment

Ques.1 What is the Internet?

Ans. 1 Internet is a network by which information can be accessed. It is basically a means of Communication , sharing and exchanging of data across devices like computers, tablets,androids, Ios etc.

It gives permission to clients to access servers.
It works on some set of protocols.

Ques.2 What is a web browser?

Ans.2 A web browser is said to be a software where a user can pull search requests and can have access to data or information on the web.

It has a URL box where any url is to be searched and the required result is obtained.

It connects the clients to the servers.

Ques.3 What is a browser engine?

Ans.3 A browser engine is a software or an application which runs on windows, IOS , mac , android etc. It is also called a search engine. It has a browser which gives the functionality to access data on the web.
Common browsers are Google Chrome, Mozilla Firefox, Safari, Microsoft Edge etc.

Ques.4 What is a static site?

Ans. 4 It is a type of website where data does not change frequently. In this we don't require a database because nothing is required to change. It is a fixed website.

It doesn't provide user interaction.It consists of very limited functionality.

Ques.5 What is a dynamic site?

Ans.5   It is a type of website where data gets updated almost every min. It uses server side programming and database to provide dynamic functionality to users.

It provides user interaction functionality.Like users can log in or log out from the site.It has advanced functionality.